Welcome to Dr. Carol Anne Janzen

We are pleased to welcome Rev. Dr.

Carol Anne Janzen as our new CBS Regional Director for the Atlantic Region in 2018.

In her new role, Carol Anne will build upon an ecumenical approach to lead our Regional team of staff and volunteers across the Atlantic provinces to deliver renewed Ministry programs and Church and volunteer engagement. Additionally, she will assist with local fundraising events as well as the distribution and sales of Bibles and the Scriptures.

Carol Anne brings a heart of understanding for mobilizing Canadians to become more active in partnering with those elsewhere to bring the Gospel to those in need.

You can reach Carol Anne at (902) 585-2230 or by email at cjanzen@biblesociety.ca.

CBS shows up all over the Province

The Canadian Bible Society in Newfoundland is known for “showing up.” Our presence at community events – despite the unpleasant weather that can keep even the most dedicated Islander safe at home – did not deter CBS activity in 2017. Showing up and also creating and nurturing meaningful partnerships is at the core of what we do and who we are.

As the new Canadian families “received” their homes and began this new and important chapter in their lives, they also received a family Bible from the Canadian Bible Society. Each child in each family received a Bible with a special dedication written inside or a Bible storybook to suit their age exactly. At one touching event, a little three- year old girl was so happy to receive her gift that she went around to most of the attendees saying, “I’ve got my very own Bible!”

Small and mighty describes our work in our province

There is no “but” about it. The CBS presence in Newfoundland is mighty. We may not be the largest in population size, but our impact is multiplied through the hard work, prayer and financial support of those who stand with us. We are known for an atmosphere of friendship and mutual support. We are neighbours helping each other.

The work is still carried out by a small group, as suits our roots. Fast-forward to 2017, we are still hard at work, living out our calling to make available God’s Word in this beautiful part of Canada.

Welcome to Tracey Jardine as Regional Coordinator

We are also pleased to welcome Tracey Jardine as our new Regional Coordinator for the Atlantic Region in 2018.

Tracey comes to CBS having recently been an Administrative Assistant at Faith Baptist Church (FBC) in the town of Great Village, just outside of Truro, Nova Scotia. We look forward to seeing Tracey combine her administrative and communications skills to work with Carol Anne as she focuses on this district to provide opportunities, resources and support for the local volunteers and their respective events. You can reach Tracey at tdkjardine@eastlink.ca

A partnership that fills backpacks and hampers with God's Word

Imagine students who, because of circumstances beyond their control, cannot afford to buy school supplies. That's when partnerships like the one between The Salvation Army and the Canadian Bible Society step in and become so important.

In 2017, CBS gave 75 Bibles to be tucked into the backpacks headed for these students in need. Among the pencils, pens and paper, students would find Scriptures designed to give them comfort and encouragement—and maybe even change the direction of their lives.

Christmas in our city is beautiful, with a lovely downtown decorated to celebrate the season. But of course, it's not always a happy time for everyone, especially if you are a family in need. In 2017, 850 New Testaments were placed in food hampers that were distributed around the area at Christmas.
